Gruesome Crime Is Revealed by Digging.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 28.
(AP)—Four bodies—believed those of a Chicago widow and her three children—were unearthed today beneath the cellar floor of the old "garage" built recently by Cornelius O. Pierson, 45-year-old correspondent of matrimonial agencies.

The bodies, badly decomposed, were tentatively identified as those of Mrs.
Asta Buick Eicher and her children,
Harry, 12; Greta, 11, and Anabel, 9,
who disappeared two months ago.
All four apparently had been killed with an ax, their heads crushed as if by terrific blows.

All four were wrapped in burlap
and hurled into their muddy graves,
the three children close together, the woman a little distance away.

Chance led to the discovery. Finding trunks containing clothing of the missing persons, uncovering bloodstains here and there in the so-called garage, and finding what they were told was human hair, police dug the ground outside the place most of the day. They had also dug the bodies of the three children were found, hidden beneath the dirt and slime of a sewer.

Police descended into the cramped cellar. Within a few moments, their picks and shovels uncovered a woman's body. Within an hour the bodies of the three children were found, hidden beneath the dirt and slime of a
sewer.

Pierson was not present. He was in the city jail, aware that search was going on, but maintaining—though his stories conflicted—that he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the missing four. Earlier in the day he had been taken to the garage that had never served that purpose. Though faced there with evidence that blood
had been shed, and with the possessions of the woman and her children, he maintained his innocence. He first
said he had brought the trunks there;
then that Mrs. Eicher had brought them; again that he had borne them to the place.

Pierson, up until late today, insisted his only business dealing with Mrs.
Eicher was to arrange for the sale of her home. Rigorous questioning, however, brought from him the information that he had given one of the children, Greta, a note to her Chicago bank requesting the balance of Mrs. Eicher's account, and with it a check in blank, purporting to have been signed by her. The bank cashier refused the request.

Warrants charging him with kidnaping and manslaughter were on their way here from Park Ridge, Ill.,
the woman's home, but the basis on which those warrants were obtained
was not revealed.

Preliminary examination of the woman's body indicated she had been killed by being smashed on the head with some heavy instrument. Her hair was torn from her scalp, but whether that was the result of a struggle that preceded her death was not determined.

The body was found wrapped in a burlap sack, buried in four feet of earth atop the sewer.

While officers said they believed
there was no doubt that the bodies were those of the missing woman and children, they would not say so.

Heat Wave in Arctic Causes Herring Flight

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(UP)—The arctic is suffering from a heat wave.
There have been several complaints about the polar weather this summer, but it remained for British scientists to make the first official protest in behalf of herrings which have been driven from the North sea.

The herrings were forced to migrate because of frigid weather. The scientists explained that heat in the arctic produces very cold currents.
The hot weather in the polar region may prove fatal to the herring family, the scientists said. They estimated that only about one per cent of the eggs would hatch, thus causing British deep-sea fishers to lose large amounts of money.

YOUTH, 16, ENTERS BROTHER'S FIGHT, SLAYS OPPONENT

and Jugular Vein Severed; Boy Held.

A scuffle that began in an argument between two DeKalb county youths, returning home from a revival meeting in the Oak Grove Baptist church, on the Shallow Ford road, Friday night, ended in the fatal stabbing of Louie Jolly, 16, of Tucker, by Theodore Williams, 16-year-old brother of Jolly's opponent in the struggle.

With his jugular vein almost severed, Jolly was rushed to the Wesley Memorial hospital by members of the party. He died about 10 minutes after arrival, the blade of the knife
having passed down between the collarbone and the neck, penetrating a lung and gashing the jugular. The body was removed to the establishment of A. S. Turner, DeKalb funeral director.

According to witnesses, the three youths were members of a party of young people who had attended church at the Oak Grove institution. As the alarm was blown for the Atlanta
police station and DeKalb County Policemen G. T. Young and Ralph Abercrombie drove to the scene at once and placed Theodore under arrest. They later arrested Herman, who had returned to his home. Theodore will be charged with murder, according to his lawyer.

Louie Jolly was the son of Robert Jolly, of Tucker. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Burma Revolt Leader Sentenced to Death

RANGOON, Burma, Aug. 28.—
(UP)—The magical powers of Saya
San, Burmese fanatic and rebel leader, failed today when a court-martial
sentenced him to death for leadership of a jungle uprising which has cost more than a thousand lives in recent months.

Saya San was captured by British troops in the interior region beyond Mandalay after he had conducted a fierce rebel campaign with natives who believed their leader was a priest with unlimited powers. He convinced them that they would be immune to death from British bullets after he had tattooed them with certain designs.

Hundreds of rebels, encouraged by Saya San's emblem, attacked outlying towns, murdered local officials and battled British troops with fatal results.

The uprising cost many thousands of dollars because the rebels were able to hide in the jungles where troops could not easily dislodge them.
It also paralyzed commercial activity
over a wide region for months.

Roosevelt Seeks TAX FOR JOBLESS

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is regarded as a possible democratic presidential candidate in 1932, today wrote a prescription for New York state unemployment involving a $20,000,000 appropriation to be raised by increased income taxes.

Breaking a precedent, the governor appeared before the legislature and spoke vigorously for an hour, urging the passage of a six-point program he had spent weeks in drawing up. When he concluded, an ovation was given to the chief executive by the legislators.
He told the legislators it was idle
to speculate on what the federal government might do; that New York state must not wait for Washington to come through with a definite constructive program. The plan he advanced, which will be considered by the legislature next week or the week
following, provides:

1. Appropriation of $20,000,000 to be distributed for relief work among the municipalities and counties of the state, and to be spent wherever possible for the employment of men during the winter on public works.
2. An increase of 50 per cent in all state income tax rates to raise the $20,000,000, the increase to be retroactive to January 1, 1931.

Crash Scatters Cash; Two Men Are Killed

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(UP)— Bank notes fluttered and silver dollars rained from the skies today
when a freight train crashed into an armored money truck, killing two men and injuring one critically.
The truck, owned by the Brinks Express Company, split open, sending a shower of money down on startled bystanders, who immediately started a scramble for it. Several packages of bills were ground under the wheels of the locomotive,
drawing a Baltimore & Ohio train.
Citizens made away with an unknown amount of the scattered cash before police gathered up the rest in baskets. Officials did not know how much money had been lost. Police estimated that they recovered
several thousand dollars.

BEAVERS SCORED FOR PUBLICATION OF DATA ON CRIME

Possibility of "Roundup"
Now Nullified, Officials Say; Boykin Expresses Keen Disappointment.

Criticism from county and city officials was directed Friday at Chief of Police James L. Beavers for permitting to become public confidential information concerning the alleged activities of Atlanta gamblers and bootleggers.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, who several days ago wrote a private letter to the head of the city police naming half a dozen men suspected of being engaged in bootlegging or gaming activities, Friday afternoon expressed keen disappointment in the letter and "let the record" on "order of Chief Beavers, to the various police watches
Thursday night and Friday morning."
"I wrote the letter as a private communication," Boykin said, "and hoped there would be a private investigation with proper action to break up these activities, if they are found to exist. It is very unfortunate that the information was made public. Any investigation now would be useless."

No Arrests Made.
No arrests had been made up to Friday night on the detailed information contained in the solicitor's letter, Lieutenant Sturdivant, to whom the matter had been referred, having stated that the persons mentioned were known to policemen on the respective beats.

"At the present time," Sturdivant said, "I am busy with safe blowers and robbers."
Alvin G. Richards, chairman of the police committee of council, to whom a copy of Mr. Boykin's letter was sent, said: "I appreciate very much the information to the department by Mr. Boykin's office. I feel that reading of the letter from Mr. Boykin to the watch was a mistake; that it should not have been handled in that way, and I feel that making public the information contained therein has nullified the plans for a roundup of those places, and has forewarned many law
violators, bootleggers, and gamblers who will simply move their operations to other parts of the city."

Letter Read to Watches.
At police headquarters Friday it was learned that Chief Beavers had ordered the Boykin letter read to the three police watches at the urging of Lieutenant Sturdivant, who has been assigned by Chief of Detectives Poole to investigate
Mr. Boykin's charges.

"I received a copy of Mr. Boykin's letter, given to me by Chief Beavers'
secretary on Wednesday," Chief Poole said. "I called in Lieutenant Sturdivant and Detective Cody and told Sturdivant to get on the job. I instructed him to take two men, or as many as he needed, to investigate the charges. Lieutenant Sturdivant then asked Chief Beavers to instruct the respective captains to read the letter to their men. This was done and it leaked out to the public. Tomorrow
there won't be a chance of arresting the men named or raiding the places designated in Mr. Boykin's letter."

As an afterthought, Chief Poole said: "I think it was bad business to have that letter read. It was bad business, and yet I can't see why Mr. Boykin,
who stated positively in his letter
that so-and-so was bootlegging or holding gambling games, did not indict
the men named in his letter. The only thing we could do here was to tell the men named in his letter."

Promotion of Ex-Atlanta Officer Fought by Pennsylvania Guardsmen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A protest against the presidential promotion of Colonel Thomas W. Darrah,
chief of staff of the third corps area,
to the rank of brigadier general was carried today to the White House and the high command of the army by

He based his complaint on the re-

during the World War on a charge of unfitness.

Acting Wyant said, at the request of Pennsylvania National Guard offi-

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Plans
for relieving distressed conditions in the cotton industry were discussed for more than three hours this afternoon at a conference between members of the federal farm board and seven United States senators from the cotton producing states.

After the conference, which was called by Senator Walter F. George,
of Georgia, neither the board nor the individual senators participating would make a statement, but the impression went abroad that the board is now prepared to give serious consideration to the proposal of the Georgia senator that it buy up the 1931
cotton crop, with farmers to be paid 12 cents per pound, half of the amount in 1932, under a stipulation not to plant cotton next year.

Usual significance was attached to the reluctance of the senators in leaving the conference. One by one each of them asked to be excused from commenting and referred all questions to Carl Williams, representative of the cotton industry on the board. Mr. Williams, in turn, declined to make a statement beyond saying that a "very interesting and harmonious discussion took place."
To those who have been closely following the situation, this reticence was taken to mean that the board agreed to take up for immediate consideration either the George plan, which is known to have been submitted, or some modification of it. It would not be surprising, therefore, to see some formal announcement on the subject within a few days, probably an acceptance of the Georgia senator's proposal.

In addition to Senator George,
those attending the conference, held at the farm board offices, were Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia; Senator Hugo Black and Senator John H.
Bankhead, of Alabama; Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida; Senator Henry F. Ashurst, of Arizona; Senator James F. Byrnes, of South Carolina, and Carl Williams, Sam H.
Thompson and Charles S. Williams, of the farm board.

Earlier in the day the senatorial group met in the office of Senator
George for a preliminary discussion.
Whether they agreed to present any definite plan to the board later tomorrow, however, was not made known. Senator George admitted, however, that he had presented his proposal at the board conference.

Chairman Stone, of the farm board,
was not present at the meeting today,
but was informed of its purpose. He is now at Chicago. Any decision of the board will necessarily await his return, which is expected next week.
The original program had called for a preliminary meeting with Mr. Williams this afternoon and further conferences with such members of the board as are here tomorrow and Monday. Whether these will be held in the light of the extended discussions today remains to be seen. At least three other senators are expected in Washington by the first of the week and it may be that a final conference will be arranged for them. The three are

C.J. Callaway Opposes Setting Of Maximum Price on Cotton

Chief Executive of Big Mills Also Against Plan Prohibiting Activity of Grower; Alternative Favored.

Any plan for correcting the disastrous effects resulting from the overproduction of cotton that actually or tentatively, directly or indirectly, by interference or otherwise, places any kind of maximum on the proper valuation of cotton, is not favored by Cason J. Callaway, president of the Callaway Mills of LaGrange, Ga., said during an interview with him Friday on the cotton growers' problem.

Mr. Callaway, who, in addition to being chief executive of one of the country's largest chains of cotton mills, is president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association and has devoted a great deal of his time this year toward the increased use of cotton.

Nor does he favor a plan which prohibits what a man should do, but does favor that which gives an alternative, he indicated.

"My experience," Mr. Callaway said, "has been that when a man in one business undertakes to work out a plan for another business, he should, if possible, in endeavoring to reach a practical solution, apply his proposed plan for another business to his own business, and work from that direction. In dealing with the present overproduction of cotton, the method that I have pursued:

"Selling Goods at Loss.

"I am today producing cotton goods, selling them at a loss. I sold cotton goods at a loss yesterday, will sell them at a loss today, and will probably sell them at a loss tomorrow. I know that we already have a surplus of cotton goods, are making more than are wanted, and that this fact is bringing about the necessity for selling at a loss. Yet I keep doing it. I am probably as intelligent as the average cotton producer, yet I am producing in a crowded and oversupplied market at a loss.

"As to why I am doing this: While I have curtailed both the hours of operation and the number of machines operated, I am still making cotton goods for the simple reason that I can make nothing else in my mills except cotton goods. If there was anything else I could do with part of my mills at a break-even price and give employment to the labor, I would certainly do it. No matter how well I know that I cannot sell goods at the cost of production and no matter how familiar I am with the fact that there are already too many goods on the market, as long as I have nothing else for the equipment to be used for, or the operatives to do, I will likely continue to produce cotton goods in a limited way but still too many for too long a time.

All Items Overproduced.

"Every item that the cotton farmer produces for resale is overproduced.

FORMER SAVANNAH DIES IN JACKSONVILLE

Robert F. Riley, Steamship Representative, Is Found Dead in Room.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Robert Fleming Riley, 42, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Merchant & Miners Steamship Company, was found dead in his room here today. He apparently had died during the night.

J. S. Geiger, justice of the peace, investigated the death and said no inquest would be held. Death was due to natural causes, Judge Geiger found.

Riley formerly lived in Savannah, Ga., where his mother and sister now live. His body was being held at a local mortuary tonight pending arrival of his relatives.

FRANCIS M. BELLAMY. TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Francis M. Bellamy, author of "The Pledge to the Flag," died at his home here tonight.

Bellamy wrote "The Pledge to the Flag" in 1892 while he was a member of the staff of the Youth's Companion and it has been widely used since then, being taught in many schools.

Bellamy is survived by his widow and two sons, David Bellamy, of Rochester, N. Y., and Benton Bellamy, of Palo Alto, Cal.

WILLIAM MONROE WRIGHT. LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 28.—(AP)—William Monroe Wright, multi-millionaire sportsman and retired banking powder manufacturer, died today at Calumet farm, his harness horse estate, near here. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the residence here.

Sunday night members of Wright's family will accompany the body to Chicago, where services will be held Monday morning in Rose Hill cemetery.

GEORGE G. BROWNELL. PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Professor George Griffin Brownell, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., an employee of the department of agriculture, died today in Neuilly after a short illness.

His wife and son, George G. Brownell Jr., were at the bedside. They will take the body to Tuscaloosa for funeral services and burial.

JAMES T. MC COMB. WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 28.—(AP)—James T. McComb, 75, millionaire sportsman of Claymont, Del., died today. He was well-known as a fox hunter.

McComb spent much of his time at the Claymont fire station and drove the engine to fires as a member of the volunteer department.

If the purchase of these scrapes and wheelers were made in advance, they could be secured without any trouble and could be bought at a very low price. The scrapes and wheelers would very likely be worn out during the seven months' period.

overhead cost of employing and supervising the labor could be handled by the county organizations already in existence, without expense to the federal government. This work would dovetail nicely and should not interfere with the work which the county organizations do anyway at the county's own expense.

This plan would give a cotton farmer an opportunity to work on a constructive job during seven months of next year, allowing him at the same time his Saturdays to look after his vegetables for home consumption.

Work Needed on Dirt Roads.

"This work would not be done on roads that are now maintained by the state, and not in concreting or hard-surfacing roads, but in grading and soiling secondary roads, which are largely adjacent to or near the cotton farmer's property. The great promotion of the money that expended would go direct to the labor, ex-

ROMANTIC WIDOW LURED FROM HOME, FRIENDS SAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(UP)—The romantic widow, Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher, and her three children disappeared from her trim white house in suburban Park Ridge sometime between June 22 and July 12.

Neighbors told a man who said he was Cornelius Pierson took possession of the home, saying that Mrs. Eicher and her children had been killed. Chief of Police H. W. Johnson searched the house and even had some of his officers start digging in the yard for bodies, although Chicago authorities scoffed at his claims.

The chief came across a packet of love letters in the garage, indicating that Mrs. Eicher and Pierson had been carrying on a romance by mail. There were 34 letters in the packet, all from Pierson. The first letter, dated January 19, 1931, told of his loneliness and described his income of "more than $400 a month."

The letters then became more personal, gradually becoming as romantic as the notes of a high school student. Chief Johnson dug further in the garage debris, and her three children and other men, all of whom apparently had subscribed to a matrimonial agency's services. One of the impassioned notes was from a California "count king." Another came from the "hard-working father of five lonely children" in Idaho.

Mrs. Eicher, said her friends, had lived quietly with her two sons and a daughter, since the death of her husband several years ago. She was, however, of an exceptionally romantic nature, added her acquaintances, recalling her delight in poems of love and her enjoyment in playing romantic melodies on the violin.

When told by the United Press late today of the finding of the bodies of the widow and her children, Chief Johnson said that he would make no further effort to have her long-distance romance returned here.

"Apparently the killings were all done in Clarkburg," said the chief. "If that's the case, we can have no further interest in this Pierson."

Victims of Matrimonial Racket Murder

Photo shows Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher, 45-year-old widow, of Park Ridge, Ill., Chicago suburb, who, with her three children, was murdered two months ago. Their bodies were found Friday. Cornelius O. Pierson, alias Harry F. Powers, 45, was arrested at Clarkburg, W. Va., August 27, for Chicago police who obtained warrants charging him with manslaughter and kidnapping in connection with the disappearance of the four. Love notes found in the Eicher home put police on the trail of Pierson.

her children. Chief Duckworth said the condition of the corpses made quick, positive identification impossible.

The discovery apparently affected Pierson little. "I haven't a d— thing to say," Duckworth reported him as saying.

Coming into the city from suburban quietude, where the crude garage stood, Duckworth moved immediately to protect his prisoner. Even at that time, little more than an hour after the first body was unearthed, a muttering crowd had gathered outside the city jail. A quick dash by automobile carried chief and prisoner to the stronger county jail. The crowd followed, but Pierson was believed safe from any violence.

It was not expected he would be taken to view the bodies until tomorrow.

Pierson, known also as Harry S. Powers, was arrested here yesterday. He readily admitted he knew Mrs. Eicher, and as readily admitted he had been in Chicago frequently. His wife here said her husband had been in Chicago "on pleasure trips" within the past year. But beyond that Pierson had nothing to say. The last he remembered was a very brief glimpse of her left by train for Denver, Colo., accompanied by a man named Rogers from Pittsburgh.

The search today, meanwhile, temporarily halted investigation of the man's activities in corresponding with women through matrimonial agencies throughout the country. Numbers of women, however, were contacted in session, but he would say only that he wrote to the women "for fun."

A copy of the advertisement apparently used to create correspondence on state and municipal public works, was found in a trunk near the building in which the bodies were found.

"Civil engineer, college education," it read, worth $150,000 or more, has $400 to $500 per month. He writes: "My business enterprises prevent me from making many social contacts. I am unable, therefore, to make the acquaintance of the right kind of women. As my properties are located through the middle west, I believe I will settle there when married. An Elk and a beautiful 10-room house, completely furnished. My wife would have her own car and plenty of spending money. Cornelius O. Pierson, P. O. Box 277, Clarkburg, W. Va."

charges against Darrah. MacArthur said Wyan agreed to do that.

General MacArthur confirmed the relief of Darrah in October, 1918, from command of the Fifty-fifth infantry brigade, composed of Western Pennsylvania National Guardsmen.

Major General Charles H. Muir then commanding the Twenty-eighth division.

The chief of staff, however, said that incident had been considered in the recommendation of his present promotion and found outweighed by his accomplishments in the service and "circumstances" of the action. He called Darrah one of the three best infantry colonels in the army.

The militia of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, the District of Columbia and Pennsylvania are under command of the Third corps headquarters.

Colonel Darrah has been an army officer since July, 1899. He was named a brigadier general in April, 1918, and retained that rank until the demobilization of the army in 1919.

Colonel Darrah, who served as chief of staff of the Fourth Corps area here from 1922 till 1924, gained the reputation of being an efficient and well-liked officer, according to his former colleagues at Fort McPherson.

He served under Major General David Shanks here and was prominent in social affairs during his residence in the city. In 1924 he was transferred to the command of the 34th infantry at Fort Eustis, Va. According to officials at the fort, he was noted as the commander of the first United States army, the innovation having been introduced under Colonel Darrah's direction.

ENGLAND TO GET 400 MILLION LOAN

France and U. S. Complete Arrangements To Advance Credits.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

While the British labor party was completing its repudiation of the MacDonald coalition ministry, dispatches received at London today of the completion of arrangements to make available a $400,000,000 Franco-American credit for use by the new government in its fight to uphold the sound sterling and will the empire's financial house in order.

American bankers, through Morgan & Co., will provide $200,000,000 of the credit while France will offer the other half.

The mantle of leadership torn from MacDonald's shoulders by the labor organization was conferred on Arthur Henderson, minister of foreign affairs in the labor ministry that the Scotch statesman disrupted to accept the king's call to combine with the liberals and conservatives in an effort to save the nation's financial structure.

MORGAN FIRM ANNOUNCES ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan & Co., announced tonight that negotiations for the extension of a $400,000,000 Franco-American credit to the British government had been completed, and that the credit had become effective as of today.

The credit, which is to run for one year, is being furnished in equal amounts by the New York and Paris banking groups. The American banking group includes more than 100 banks and banking houses throughout the country. It is distinct from the $250,000,000 credit extended by the federal reserve and the Bank of France a few weeks ago, and the federal reserve is not participating in the credit.

"The credit has been negotiated by cable and trans-Atlantic telephone within the past 36 hours. It is believed to be the largest private banking credit in history, and bankers regard the credit as a victory with which the negotiations had been completed as remarkable. It was said the credit was substantially larger than the British government had thought of requesting, and was purposely made of such size as to still all doubt as to the stability of the British pound sterling.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT ANNOUNCED IN PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—France and the United States will open credits totaling $400,000,000 for Great Britain, each being responsible for $200,000,000, according to the terms of an agreement announced this evening.

The agreement was reached by representatives of the British and French treasuries and by state bank officials. So far as France's share is concerned, the $200,000,000 of advance will be put at England's disposal by a private French bank.

The other $100,000,000 of the French portion will be raised by means of a short-term loan to be subscribed to by French private citizens. To this end the government will issue bonds of 100 francs each, the rate of interest to be fixed at 4.25 per cent.

The methods of paying the charges of operation will be fixed shortly. The charges will include stamp duties amounting to 1 per cent and taxes on foreign securities. The Havas Agency said the charges probably "will be covered for the most part by the borrowers."

The communique telling of the agreement said Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British treasury official, and H. R. Stepmann, representing the Bank of England, both thanked Minister of Finance Flaminio Piccoli for the French government's effort and for the testimony of France's friendship for Great Britain.

The terms of the agreement were telegraphed to Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer. The British delegates will devote tomorrow to studying the final details of the agreement.

The finance ministry expressed belief the short-term bonds will be issued next week.

Before going on his long overdue vacation, Mr. Flaminio received the press. "The negotiations just finished

THREE JAILED IN PLOT TO DY NAMITE WHARVES

Police Seek "Higher-Ups" After Arresting Three in Brunswick Mystery.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Three men were in jail here tonight charged with attempted arson in connection with an unsuccessful effort August 16 to dynamite rosin wharves here, and officers announced they were seeking "higher-ups."

Chief of Police J. E. Register gave the names of the three men under arrest as W. H. Smith, 23; Stacy Prescott, 25; and Barron Phillips, 27. He declined to discuss the evidence on which they were arrested but said Solicitor-General W. B. Gibbs had expressed the opinion it was sufficient to convict and added it was indicated the attempt was instigated by other persons.

The dynamite plot was discovered early Sunday, August 16, when a watchman on the wharves of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, where about 15,000 barrels of rosin were stored, was attracted by a slight explosion.

The watchman called help and investigation revealed 60 sticks of dynamite distributed over the wharf, with all the charges connected, in what officers said was an apparent attempt to arrange a destructive series of explosions.

Aged Fisherman Dies in Waters Of Beloved River

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The body of Ward Allen, 75-year-old professional fisherman and hunter, apparently a victim of the riverman's life which he deserted a profession to follow, was found in Savannah river late yesterday after an all-day search.

The aged man was missed from his household and a hunt was immediately begun. Members of the searching party said he appeared to have fallen into the river and drowned.

Allen, a native of Savannah, was given a college education with a view to making him a lawyer, but he answered the call of the open and became a successful professional hunter instead.

His grandfather, John E. Ward, was mayor of Savannah in the early '30s, and later was United States minister to China. Allen's widow is an invalid in millidgeville.

The body was sent this afternoon to Augusta for burial. The family moved from Savannah to a plantation near there when Mr. Allen was a young man.

LAW TO GUARD TRUCK MARKETS IS PROPOSED

MACON, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Expressing his beliefs that the adoption of any plan to restrict the growth of cotton in Georgia would increase truck gardening in this state, L. T. Gilien, speaker pro tem, of the state house of representatives, said today he would confer next week with Governor R. B. Russell Jr. concerning legislation which would permit competitive trucks from Florida and other states from an invasion of the local market.

"The cotton situation is not the only question to be settled by the farmer should an extraordinary session of the legislature be called," Mr. Gilien said. "I have a petition signed by 5,000 farmers asking that competitive garden trucks which are daily brought into this state from surrounding states be stopped so that Georgia farmers may have a market for their produce."

The legislation, he said, would not effect citrus fruits. Georgia has none of them. Mr. Gilien expressed belief that the farmers of Georgia would grow more of the truck garden variety if they could be assured of a ready market.

LOWER BUILDING, LOAN DIVIDENDS ARE URGED

Elberton Man Named President of League as Athens Meeting Ends.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A resolution recommending that building and loan associations in Georgia reduce their dividend rates slightly in order to increase their reserve strength was adopted here today at the closing session of the Georgia Building and Loan League's annual convention.

Horace Russell, of Atlanta, a member of the executive committee of the national league, previously had recommended such action, though he told the state league that official statistics showed the business had made forward strides both in Georgia and nationally even during a time of depression. He said strong reserves and conservative operations had been principal factors toward such progress, and urged that the principles be even more fully applied. Russell was chairman of the resolutions committee.

Fred Herndon, of Elberton, was elected president of the league, and Elberton was chosen for the 1932 convention.

W. H. Watson, of Macon, was elected first vice president; Julius McCurdy, Decatur, second vice president; Olin A. Dozier, Athens, third vice president, and Clyde W. Shahan, Rockwell, fourth vice president.

'Mule' Haas Will Be Lost to Athletics in Coming World Series; W. L. Plans To Start Comeback Campaign With October Bout

BREAK of the DAY
By Ralph McGill

Unless Jack Kearns has been writing you letters you naturally haven't seen any of his stationery.

Kearns, who is quite a claimer, is making some assertions in behalf of Mickey Walker, the ubiquitous Irishman with a punch, which show just what a first-class claimer can do when he tries.

Mickey is portrayed as the heavyweight champion, light-heavyweight champion, middleweight champion and welterweight champion.

The whole thing is summed up as "Mickey Walker, Champion of Champions, the Superman."

There is so much of the phoney about the fight racket that Kearns' ballyhoo on behalf of his man, Mickey, may be worth going into.

"As heavyweight champion, won Referee Arthur Donovan's decision over Jack Sharkey."

This says nothing about the fight being a draw. And says nothing at all about Mickey winning a draw because of the New York rule, which took away two of Sharkey's rounds because of low blows.

"As light-heavyweight champion won Referee Dave Miller's decision over Tommy Loughran, 10 rounds, Chicago."

This would be fine and dandy were it not for the fact that two judges voted for Loughran and the decision went that way, Walker being the loser.

And then comes one which should have made even the case-hardened Kearns blush a bit if blushing wasn't a lost art with the Doctor.

"As middleweight champion won Benny Yanger's decision over Tiger Flowers, 10 rounds, Chicago."

It was pretty well agreed that the Tiger was jobbed out of that decision. It was one of those "Chicago decisions," which were more or less infamous at the time.

The Tiger was jobbed partially because he was a colored man and partially because of other influences in the racket. Newspapers gave the decision to Flowers. And Atlanta still recalls the Tiger as a good boy whom the city liked.

Walker carefully avoided Flowers after that despite a promise to give him another match. The match was quite a stink in its time.

The letterhead goes on to tell that Walker won over Jack Britton in the welter class.

There was nothing phoney about that. But the others are pure phoney. And nothing else.

It is too bad that Kearns can't be in there taking some of what Max Schmeling will give to Mickey Walker when they meet next spring or summer. It will be plenty.

There is no reason why Mickey should get the Schmeling shot. The champion chose him. And the champion was thinking of the gate.

STIRBLING PUTS ON WEIGHT.
W. L. Stribling arrived in Atlanta at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon from Los Angeles.

He looked great and, what was more important, was weighing 191 pounds—his real fighting weight.

Jimmy Jones has an interesting story of Stribling's plans in another column on this page. The boy plans some fights in October with "any of them I can get."

Stribling's fighting weight is 190 pounds. Any weight below that finds him lacking in power. He weighed 190 the night he knocked out Jack DeMave in Atlanta some time ago. And he never appeared in better shape.

That night at Cleveland Max Schmeling was the better man. He clearly won the fight.

Yet there are a few of us still curious as to what would have happened had Stribling gone in the ring weighing 190 pounds instead of 185.

In training off that extra poundage he lost some of his power and some of his timing.

It keeps that 190 pounds and fights at that weight he will cause a lot of grief in the ranks of heavyweight aspirants to the title he fought for and missed.

HAAS TO MISS WORLD SERIES; WRIST BROKEN

'Knuckle Bone' Slips Out When Former Cracker Swings Bat.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—George "Mule" Haas, injured center-fielder of the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, probably will be lost to the club for the rest of the season, including the world series, Manager Connie Mack said today.

Haas' wrist, broken several weeks ago, has failed to mend as well as hoped for.

"Doc" Ebling, club trainer, explained the trouble today as difficulty with the "knuckle bone" of the wrist. He said efforts of Haas to swing a bat resulted in the bone slipping out of place, causing great pain and weakness.

"A further rest, with no efforts to play, may bring the wrist around in time for some of the late season games, but we are afraid not," Ebling said.

At Simmons league batting leader who has been at his home in Milwaukee with a sprained ankle, has been ordered to report to the Athletics in Boston Friday.

BOBBY PRAISES CANADA CHAMP

MONTREAL, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Sandy Somerville, Canadian amateur champion, can add a good chance to win the United States amateur golf crown this year. The authority for this statement is Bobby Jones, who defeated Somerville last year on his way to the title.

Bobby was asked what he thought of Somerville's chances when he arrived here from Pebble Beach.

"You know how golf is," he replied. "You never can tell what will happen. Sandy is a good player all right and I think he has a pretty good chance."

Difficult Beverly Hills Course Waits Battle.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Beverly Country Club is waiting the onslaught of the 122 amateurs against its par of 36-35-71.

In comparison with the courses where the national amateur has been played the past four years, the Beverly course ranks close to the top. It is four times as long as the last one, and the fairways are so well groomed that the entire place looks like a well-manicured lawn.

Yet the Beverly course to the casual observer doesn't look difficult. It seems too metropolitan to be hard. A street car line runs close to the clubhouse and a railroad track on the west. The trees, with the hills and dunes and the fairways are so well groomed that the entire place looks like a well-manicured lawn.

Guesses as to the top score that will be made, the clubhouse seems to favor a figure around 157, but if a heavy wind blows, anything around 160 is likely to get in.

The top qualifying figure at Merion was 155, at Pebble Beach 160, at Brae Burn 157, and at Minnehaha 156.

At the western amateur last year, with a very strong field competing, 150 played off for last place. The two days of play were perfect, hardly a breath of air was blowing and the course was in wonderful shape.

Injured BEN JONES BOWS IN SEMI-FINALS TO BILL OLIVER

Howard Lilliston Other Finalist in Radium Springs Golf Meet.

ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Billy Oliver, Valdosta, and Howard Lilliston, Albany, today won their way to the finals of the annual Radium Springs invitation golf tournament.

Oliver in the semi-finals this afternoon defeated Dr. Ben Jones, Atlanta, 5 and 4, while Lilliston was winning, 5 and 3, from Dick Cherry, Albany.

Lilliston was only one over par for the round.

Oliver turned 3 up on Jones.

Three startling upsets featured this morning's second-round play, which saw the best of last year's runners-up in the championship flight, Jim Warren, of Tampa, Fla.

Warren was beaten, 2 and 1, by Howard Lilliston, of Albany, after Lilliston had established an early lead and rounded the turn one hole ahead.

Billy Oliver, of Valdosta, who just slipped into top flight play after a play-off following the qualifying round Wednesday and yesterday created surprise by eliminating Ford Smith, of Atlanta, the medalist, today offered another stunning upset by whipping Dean Smith, of Savannah, 2 and 1.

Smith was runner-up to Charles Yates, of Atlanta, in the Georgia amateur championship this summer and was one of the favorites to win this tournament.

In the other two matches Dick Cherry, of Albany, won from Horace Wright, of Macon, by a lopsided 5-1, and a 3 and 2, over Dr. Ben Jones, of Atlanta, turned back Joe Denmark, of Savannah, 3 and 2.

Results in other flights were:

Ready To Fight Again

W. L. Stribling Jr. Ready To Fight Again

W. L. Stribling Jr., five pounds heavier and with a tinge of California sunshine on his cheeks, stepped out of a big passenger plane yesterday afternoon at Candler field, following a two weeks' visit to the Pacific coast, with Mrs. Stribling.

After shaking hands all around and remarking how fine it was to feel the good old Georgia clay under his feet again, W. L. took the time to intersperse a few fistic comments into the rapidly-moving conversation of the trip. They ran along these lines:

"GLOVE ITCH."
The big Georgian is feeling the glove itch again after several weeks of rest and recreation and says he will fight in October, in all probability. He does not know the date or place yet, but said he would begin his comeback against a well-known heavyweight, the promoters would name.

He received a telegraphic offer of $3,000 while in California to box Jack Dempsey, a couple of exhibition rounds and didn't answer it. While he didn't say as much, Stribling implied that he didn't care to drop into the ring against a heavyweight that Mr. Dempsey is boxing at present.

He doesn't believe Gene Tunney is coming back and wants to know why Tunney should come back.

WELCOMING GROUP.
The heavyweight and his wife were greeted by a welcoming group that included Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kinney, parents-in-law of the fighter. They completed the last lap of the journey as guests of the American Airways secretary at Candler field, following a two weeks' visit to the Pacific coast, with Mrs. Stribling.

Both W. L. and his wife were surprised to hear of the impending marriage of Herbert (Baby) Stribling to Miss Edith Noland, Pa. Stribling's secretary. In fact, they said they knew nothing of it until they were so informed upon their arrival yesterday. They were pleased, of course.

W. L. looked at Mrs. Stribling and said: "Doesn't that knock you off your feet? Mrs. Stribling answered that it did."

TO ATTEND WEDDING.
They announced that they would have to alter their plans a bit so as to be present at the wedding Sunday, which will take place at the Ochlocknee, Ga., home.

"We didn't know we were coming back for Herbert's wedding, although we knew he and Edith were sweethearts," Mrs. Stribling added sweetly.

Next Tuesday, Stribling will fly his plane to Cleveland, scene of his fight with Schmeling, to take in the air race.

The Striblings reported a very enjoyable trip. In California, they visited Jim Jeffries, former champion, who has always been sort of an idol in the Stribling family. Pat's ambition to make boxes of his two sons having been born after seeing Big Jim fight years ago.

SIDE TRIPS.
W. L. and his wife also went on a sight-seeing trip to Mexico while on the coast, visiting Agua Caliente and other spots. Mrs. Stribling said that the Mexican resorts were very interesting. With its movie colonies and balmy climate, was much more interesting. It was her first visit to the far west.

"We met a world of actors and actresses out there," she said.

W. L. and Mrs. W. L. didn't tarry long at Candler field. They were in a hurry to fly on to Macon where their two young children were waiting for them. They plan to fly to Ochlocknee today for a family reunion and "Baby's" wedding.

GALLON OF OLIVES.
Stribling's kiddies are foolish about olives, so their dad brought them a gallon of fresh ones all the way from California.

Before taking off in his own ship, however, Stribling had to slip on a machine suit and tinker with the plane a bit. There was something wrong with the battery, he discovered.

"I don't know exactly where I will fight but you can say that I've put on weight and am ready to go any time."

W. L. said just before taking to the clouds again that he had a few more hours to his own log book.

W. L. and Wife Land At Macon Airport.
MACON, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling and his wife, Clara, landed at the Macon airport late this afternoon after a vacation of several weeks on the Pacific coast. The couple left Dallas, Texas, this morning on the last leg of their cross-country jaunt.

Stribling said on arrival that he and Mrs. Stribling had a delightful trip and that it had done him great good.

Football Placed on Par With Latin, Economics

Game Has Place as Course of Study in College, Frank Thomas Says.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Football, like Latin, economics and mathematics, has its place as a course of study in the American college, Frank W. Thomas, coach at the University of Alabama, said today in discussing recent criticisms of the game.

Wallace Wade's successor here selected four channels through which he said "so-called reformers" have concentrated their attacks. They were a suggestion that an intensive intramural program replace intercollegiate competition; playing for "sport's sake," without thought of the final score; elimination of the professional coach, and the charge that football plays no part in education.

"During the past several years football has become so popular that it has been resorted to as a common rather than unusual at games," Thomas said. "Much criticism has been heaped upon the game and this year a new high mark was reached in casting adverse remarks at the game. Some were without foundation, but in most cases there have been few constructive criticisms."

FOOTBALL DOES IT.
Regarding the intramural program plan, Coach Thomas said that in a majority of American schools no appropriation by legislatures or trustees have been made to carry on such a plan.

"In practically every college in the country the gate receipts from football contests not only have financed the entire program but have also carried the burden of the intramural program. Thus every boy in college is afforded an opportunity to take some kind of physical exercise."

The argument centering about participation in games for "sport's sake," Coach Thomas said, was the weakest advanced. "Playing to win does not mean 'over-emphasis' on the score," he pointed out. "It should mean doing one's best within the rules. The boy who plays a game with a happy-go-lucky attitude is usually a poor candidate for a date for an intercollegiate game and I have a notion that in most cases he will be a poor candidate for play, every-day living."

REGARDING COACHES.
Touching on the suggestion that coaches be eliminated, Thomas said a great many of the leading educators of the country realize the important part intercollegiate athletics plays in modern education. "If their statements are correct," Thomas explained, "then the professional coach has his part to play in the development of young men, just as much so as the professor of English, Latin or any other course of study."

Participation in varsity sports offers a fine opportunity for teaching the great lesson of living, Thomas said. "This, he said, refuted the charge that football plays no part in education."

"It is generally conceded that the final aim in education is a high type of citizenship," said he. "And I feel that the athletic field, with its opportunities of fair play, obedience to the rules, respect for one's competitors, co-operation and self-confidence all contribute to this same goal of good citizenship."

German Abandons Attempt at Channel
CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Fritz Fischer, German swimmer, today abandoned an attempt to swim the English channel to Dover, England, on account of a strong wind and rough sea. He was six miles out when he gave up the attempt.

At Roby's Monday

"Beastly" Obie, of Atlanta, weight 200, and "Army Mule," of Fort Benning, 192, will headline Roby's all-colored card at the Roby arena Monday night. Both fighters are well-known to local patrons of Roby's fights.

The bout will be a 10-rounder and the feature of the show.

In addition to the main go there will be a double semi-windup of eight rounds each. Kid LaGula, 137, of Porto Rico, will meet Kid Mool, 125, while Lou Hardwick boxes Kid Tiller.

Tiger Jewell and Dynamite Gus will box a four-round prelim.

Referee will be with Beavall, with women to be admitted free with male escort.

STIRBLING RETURNS FROM VACATION IN GREAT SHAPE

Heavyweight Feels 'Glove Itch'; Will Meet Any Foe.

Inman Park Plays Kirkwood in Piedmont League Series Today

BEVERLY GOLF CLUB, CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 28.—This is a place today of chills and fever, as far as nerves go. A place of haunting spectres and mocking shadows. A hundred and fifty surviving golfers have come thousands of miles from every section of the United States and yet only 32 of them will be left by Tuesday night for match play.

One is reminded of the old English ballad, viz.:
"Of fifteen hundred Englishmen went home but fifty-three.
The rest in Chevy Chase were slain beneath the Greenwood tree."

The margin of slaughter will be almost as heavy at Beverly when four out of five slip over the precipice and disappear as the two medal rounds are completed.

So far in the practice rounds, Beverly has furnished every golfer present with a wholesome respect for his eighteen pars. It has given them depressing memories of what can happen if they slip a trifle, since it is no easy matter here to make up mistakes on one hole with a birdie on the next.

The course demands such a combination of direction and distance that it will be a struggle for the entire field and no certain qualifier can face pleasant dreams through the next two nights before Monday's opening fare begins. Each one is thinking to himself—"only one out of five."

A spell of hooking or fading from the tee—the temporary loss of a putting touch—one or two bad breaks—and there is nothing left but another year.

Veterans and Young Stars.
One of the main arguments around Beverly now is the chance of the veterans against the younger stars. They must take those over 30 against those under 30.

Over 30 will include Doc Willing, Francis Quimet, George Voigt, Harrison Johnston, Max Marston, Chick Evans, Jesse Guilford, Eddie Driggs and Ellis Knowles, to mention only a few.

Under 25 will include Charley Kersis, Johnny Goodman, Gene Homans, Charley Seaver, Lawson Little, Maurice McCarthy, Leonard Martin, George Dunlap and others.

Then there are a few somewhere in between, such as Phil Perkins, Ross Somerville, Frank Doh, George Dawson, John E. Lehman, Watts Gunn, Roland McKenzie, etc.

The younger list looks to be the stronger division, but the balance is not heavy. The old-timers will be fresh and keen on Monday and Tuesday and experience is a big factor in these 36-hole medal jamborees.

When you look over these three lists, the thought comes again that by Wednesday night there will only be eight left and no Delphic Oracle was ever prophetic enough to call the turn on such a riddle—the riddle being the names of the winning eight who start 36-hole rounds on Thursday.

As fine a golfer as George Von Elm passed out of the plot on the first day in 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1930. That shows what can happen to the headlines in this mad and merry whirl of action.

If Phil Perkins is in the last eight

MINISTER WINS GRAND AMERICAN SHOOTING HONOR

In Tenth Trial, Rev. Roebuck Becomes Champ at Vandalia.

By James L. Renick, Associated Press Sports Writer.

VANDALIA, Ohio, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A dark horse of clay target shooting galloped across the traps of the Amateur Trapshooting Association today to win the Grand American handicap, the most highly prized honor in the gun world.

The Rev. Garrison Roebuck, a United Brethren minister from McClellan, Ohio, an "unknown" until today, forced his way into a tie for first position with Fred Harlow, Newark, Ohio, and R. F. Willbaum, of Greenville, Ohio, with scores of 96.

Roebuck shot from the 17-yard line, Willbaum from the 19, and Harlow from the 22.

The handicap proved too much for Harlow, who was the 1930 champion in 1908, and he dropped five targets in the first event of the shoot-off to take third place.

Willbaum fought it out to the 75th target, the minister winning, 68 to 65.

In the first place shoot-off, Harlow dropped out early, missing five in the first event, the other two missing only two. In the second event, Willbaum was out in front, but missed his 44th bird to make it a tie again.

In the last event, Willbaum dropped his 55th and 56th, 60 and 73rd targets, while Roebuck was missing only two.

Today was only the tenth time that the McClure minister had shot at clay targets. He was undecided until this morning whether to enter the Grand American, which netted him more than $1,000 in cash and a trophy.

Miss Jeanette Jay, Waverly, Iowa, winner of the North American women's championship earlier in the week, led the women shooters today with a 92. Miss W. Stillwagon, of Trenton, N. J., was second with 91, and Miss Belle McCord Roberts, Long Beach, Cal., was third with 89.

Rufus King, the 15-year-old Wichita Falls, Texas, boy, who won the Grand American title last year, labored under a double handicap today, a broken right foot and a 4-yard handicap, which brought him down to an 82, far out of the money.

Georgia shooters in the grand American handicap turned in the following scores:

Mrs. W. P. Andrews, Atlanta, shooting from the 20-yard line, scored 83; J. R. Cothran, Atlanta, from the 23-yard line, 85; H. D. Brown, Atlanta, 23-yard line, 84; J. W. Roberts, Brooklyn, 22-yard line, 68; Charles W. Tway, Atlanta, 20-yard line, 70; Jack Tway, Atlanta, 20-yard line, 80; L. H. Metcalf, Decatur, 23-yard line, 86.

DON GEORGE WINS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Ed Don George, former champion of the heavyweight wrestling championship, tonight defeated Jean LeDon, Canadian champion, in the feature at the municipal stadium. George scored a fall in 25 minutes 13 seconds with a head scissor after he had weakened the Canadian with two flying tackles.

Mr. Street Must Feel Good At All This Publicity; He's Had a Hard Road

By Jimmy Jones.

IT MUST bring a warm, comfortable feeling about the person of Charles (Gabby) Street—the Charles part is silent—to see his name in paragraph No. 1 these days.

For the boys who dish out the daily sports yarns on our newspapers are giving the capital G and S plenty of play and grinding out stacks of comment on the Sergeant.

And there were times a few years back when they seldom wrote anything about Gabby, except to mention that he was the fellow who persisted in catching the ball from Washington monument. And that was about all.

Gabby did catch the ball from Washington monument. He also caught the fire balls thrown by Walter Johnson. Those were feats not to be snooted in catching circles. But Gabby will tell you that he never succeeded in exchanging either of them for meal tickets.

Four years ago, Gabby Street was managing minor league ball clubs and doing his own catching. It was while chasing the erratic heaves of young pitchers and pegging to second base on the first bounce that a coveted yearning was born in the heart of the vociferous one to become a major league manager.

He knew that there weren't many more flips left in that throwing wing of his and that marking up verbal demerits against young men in the minors wasn't doing a great deal to ward insuring the Street future.

Once a year there came the baseball conventions. There Gabby saw prosperous club owners and Class A managers enjoying their complacency. He saw them smoking high-priced cigars, stopping at high-priced hotels and eating at high-priced eating places.

"And here I am puffing five-cent stogies and ordering ham and eggs and having to turn back something on the expense account besides," Gabby Street said by way of retrospection. Gabby Street, you know, is quite an epicurean. And many is the day that he sat on his haunches in a Class B league dreaming of luxurious porler cars and big league ball players all around him.

There was never anything particularly sparkling about the way Gabby Street managed minor league ball clubs. His teams rarely ran high above the 500 rating. Maybe it was because he never had any strong clubs to manage. At any rate it was not his brilliance as a club boss that eventually resulted in his landing the helm of the St. Louis Cardinals.

HE GOT A BREAK.
One day Gabby Street got a break. Branch Rickey, representing the Cardinal chain, was touring the great American bush in search of playing talent. The Cardinals needed a coach, incidentally, a man who knew something of handling pitchers. He knew of Street's boundless energy and his cayennish chatter on the coaching lines. So he signed Gabby Street up.

This came about in 1929. All that year Gabby was a coach—an inconspicuous but important job on a big league club. The following winter there came one of those frequent changes in the Cardinal management.

When the news was flashed over the wires that Street was the man who had succeeded to the position, there were many doubting Thomases.

WHITTIER PLAYS RAILWAY TEAM IN CRUCIAL TILT

Many Exciting Games Seen as Leagues Near Season End.

Inman Park Baptist will play Kirkwood Baptist a double-header at Spiller park Saturday afternoon, to start the three-game series for the Piedmont league cup. The first game will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

Inman Park Baptist will play Kirkwood Baptist in the final half.

The first of these games will see the renewal of the duel for mound supremacy of the league between Miller, of Inman Park, and Carter, of Kirkwood Baptist. In their last meeting the hitters were held helpless, Carter yielding him one hit and Miller twice the number.

In the Georgia league, College Park will be the scene of the feature tilt with Grant Park Baptist furnishing the home team for the homecoming. And should the visitors be successful in their invasion the season in this league will be forced into the overtime period to permit rained-out games to be played, as they will be necessary to decide the flag winner.

Northwest Atlanta and the Bethesda Class, pace-setters in the Dixie league, will play second division clubs on their home lots and a loss for either of them will put them out of the running. Northwest meets North Atlanta, while Alpha Class plays the Bethesda.

Past Methodist and Woodlawn Presbyterian will furnish the feature tilt for the Dixie league. The leader, Pattillo Memorial, will clinch the cup through default of their scheduled opponents, who dropped from the schedule.

Pattillo Memorial will not be idle, as they have scheduled a game with Capitol View Methodist of the Piedmont league.

PIEDMONT LEAGUE.
Inman Park Baptist vs. Kirkwood Baptist, two games, Spiller field.
Daknoth Presbyterian vs. Central Presbyterian, one game, Spiller field.

DIXIE LEAGUE.
North Atlanta vs. Bethesda, one game, at Oglethorpe park.
Alpha Class vs. Bethesda Class at Adair park.

Southern Railway Meets Whittier Mills.
The final game in the City League is scheduled between Southern Railway and Whittier Mills today at Almond park, and should be one of the amateur features of the day, with the championship of the league hanging in the balance. The teams are evenly matched and a big crowd is expected.

The last set of games in the Atlanta League also is booked for this week. Fulton Bag is undefeated so far, and they will oppose Standard Oil in the final at Piedmont park, while Fisher and Spiller Red use the Fulton Bag diamond. Postoffice and Junior Order play the other game at Piedmont.

Harper, star pitcher for Fulton Bag, was best prospect picked up by the ivory hunters from the Atlanta League this season. Harper has signed a contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers and will probably be given a trial next spring.

Flint River Crucial Series Begins.
JONESBORO, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Jonesboro and College Park meet today in the first game of a two-out-of-three championship series to determine the winner of the Flint River League. The series will be played next Saturday on the College Park diamond.

If a third game is necessary, the two teams will draw to determine which diamond it will be played on.

Jonesboro is now a scant one-half game in the lead, but, according to the rules of the league, a series between the two leading teams must be played before a winner is announced. This was decided because of the very brief schedule which was thought to be an unfair one.

The series should be an extremely hard-fought one, and it is probable that all three games will have to be played before a winner is decided. Roy Harrell and a staff of capable assistants will do the officiating.

Gordon Street Plays Two Games.
The American League season closed last week with Grace and Westminster tied for the league leadership, each having won 8 and lost 2. The tie will be played off later in the season.

Jefferson Street will play Calvary in the National league feature game today. Gordon Street will play two games a week, the first with Cascade at 2 o'clock, and the second with Park Street at 6 o'clock.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Calvary vs. Jefferson, at Joe Brown-Brownell stadium.
Gordon Street vs. Cascade, first game 2 p. m., at John A. White-Perkins.

RAIN INTERRUPTS DOUBLES PLAY

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Rain interrupted the national doubles tennis championship play today, and left the draw so disrupted that United States Lawn Tennis Association officials put the final over until next Tuesday, when it will conflict with the international team matches with England and France at Philadelphia.

Johnny Doe and George Lott, the defending champions, were unable to play the remainder of their quarter-finals match with the United States Davis cup singles stars, Sidney Wood and Frank X. Shields, of New York.

Each of these teams has set and the first seven games in the third had gone with service when the players were washed off the court by a shower late yesterday. They will resume their best three-out-of-five set play tomorrow and the winners will not be called upon to play again until Monday, when they will oppose Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., and Berkeley Bell, New York, in the upper half semi-final.

When the champions complete their match tomorrow, Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, and Johnny Van Ryn, last year's runner-up, will move into the grandstand court for their semi-final play against Clifford Riggall, New Orleans, and Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(UP)—A restraining order obtained by Estelle Taylor to prevent her husband, Jack Demsey, from disposing of certain property while their divorce suits are pending, was dismissed in superior court yesterday.

Macks and Cards Both Win To Increase Pennant Race Leads

LEADERS RALLY TO TAKE GAMES AS RIVALS REST

A's Beat Yankees, 5-4; Cards Bump Those Pirates, 6-4.

By L. S. Cameron,
United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(UP)—Philadelphia and St. Louis, respective leaders in the American and National league pennant races, increased their advantages today while their second-place rivals were idle, and now lead their circuits by larger margins than at any previous time during the season.

The world champion Athletics rallied in the seventh inning to score three runs and passed out the New York Yankees, 5 to 4. The triumph lengthened Philadelphia's lead to 15 full games with only 33 games to play.

MAHAFFEY HELPS.

Mahaffey pitched for the winners and received credit for his fifteenth win of the year as against two defeats, although he was removed for a pinch hitter during the winning rally.

St. Louis also was forced to come from behind to win, scoring all of their runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Larry French allowed the Cards only 9 hits and shut them out for six innings, but allowed two runs in the seventh and blew up in the eighth as the Cards pounded in four runs.

The victory increased St. Louis' lead over the second place New York Giants to 10 1/2 games.

INDIANS WIN.

The Cleveland Indians strengthened their hold on fourth place in the American league by defeating St. Louis, 13 to 1, with the defeat just about ending the Browns' hopes of earning a first-division berth.

Mel Harder held the Browns to four scattered hits while his mates pounded Gray and Kliney for 16. Harder aided the attack with three hits in five times at bat.

The only other scheduled contest of the day, an American league game between Washington and Boston, was halted by rain after three innings of play and will be played as part of a double-header tomorrow.

New Stage, Screen Programs At Atlanta Theaters Today

Three youthful screen personalities have engraved their names on the screen's tablet of fame because of their contribution to one of the year's most widely discussed picture productions, "An American Tragedy," which comes to Keith's Georgia theater for the new week starting this morning. The players are Phillips Holmes, Sylvia Sidney and Frances Dee.

Holmes plays the role of Clyde Griffiths in Paramount's dramatic picture of the Theodore Dreiser novel. Sylvia Sidney plays Roberta Alden and Frances Dee portrays Sondra Finchley.

"An American Tragedy" comes to the Georgia tomorrow on the same program with a new vaudeville program headlined by Charlie Foy, gifted son of the famous Eddie Foy. Charlie is assisted by his "cousins" as he calls them, and by Violet West. Other acts on the new show are: Cardini, one of America's most celebrated card manipulators; Freddie Pisanò and company, in "Traffic Lights," and Betty Jane Cooper, assisted by Lathrop brothers and Joe Reems.

"TRANSATLANTIC" TO SHOW ON FOX SCREEN TODAY
"Transatlantic," the notable screen production which has been described as another "Grand Hotel" set on shipboard, opens its week's run at the Fox theater this morning. With Edmund Lowe, Lois Moran, Myrna Loy, Jean Hersholt and other famous players in the cast, it is one of the most enthralling stories of the summer.

On the stage the Fox announces an especially important engagement of the "Hollywood Collegians." This is the play orchestra which made such a tremendous hit when they played at the Fox last November. This time they are in Fanchon & Marco's "Peep Idea," which also features Dorothy Crooker, the famous control dancer.

Enrico Leide, with the Fox Concert orchestra; Al Evans at the organ; and other Bobby Jones golf picture, and the usual newswell and short subjects complete the bill.

"DIRIGIBLE," SUPER FILM, OPENS AT CAPITOL TODAY
Drama, action, romance and comedy are combined in even balance in "Dirigible," the Columbia air spectacle which opens an engagement this morning at the Capitol theater. The picture has the stellar services of Jack Holt and Ralph Graves, the outstanding "buddy" team of the movies, and was directed by Frank Capra. Lovely Fay Wray appears in the leading feminine role.

Filled with stirring air action, "Dirigible" rises to a smashing climax in the rescue at the south pole of a stranded aviator by the crew of a giant dirigible.

The picture is based on an original story by Commander Frank Wilber Wend, U. S. N., retired.

CAROLINA SPORTSMAN PLANS ORIENT FLIGHT
NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—Officials of the American Aeronautical Corporation today confirmed a report that Smith Reynolds, North Carolina sportsman, and his small amphibious plane were hoisted last Wednesday aboard the Berengaria on the first stage of a trip to the Orient.

Reynolds, son of the late president of the American Tobacco Company, told the Cunard Steamship Company nothing of his plans to take a plane with him when he engaged passage, they say. Late in the afternoon of the day the ship sailed, he landed alongside her North river pier and asked to be lifted aboard.

He intended to start his flight from Southampton, England, when the ship made port. His itinerary includes a flight across France and Spain to the north African shore, an overwater circumnavigation of Africa and a flight across Arabia, Persia and India to Bombay.

COFFEE TO DELAY SCHOOL OPENING

County Will Solve Money Problems by Changing Date to January 1.

Announcement Friday that Coffee county will solve its school financial problems by opening the county schools until January 1, probably will be followed by similar announcements from many other Georgia counties, M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of education, asserted.

Duggan said that he will seek a conference with Governor Russell in the next few days so that he will be able to recommend to the school authorities over the state on the prospects of financial aid from the state.

Sale of the Western & Atlantic railroad rental warrants will give partial relief to the schools of the state by paying a quarter of the unpaid balance due for the last three years under the Barrett-Rogers and common school funds, Duggan said.

"The plight of Coffee county is reflected in a great many other counties of Georgia," Duggan said. "The state owes Coffee county $30,000 from the Barrett-Rogers and common school funds for the last three years, and the county itself is in bad shape like many others because of non-payments of local school taxes. In addition, the state now owes a balance on this year."

"The indications are that a few school systems will not open until January 1, and that many will delay their fall openings for a month or more until they have better assurances of getting money for operation. I sincerely believe and hope that the present administration will pay the schools' debts in due time. A good start has been made with the W. & A. rental discount plan."

COFFEE BOARD ANNOUNCES DELAY IN SCHOOL OPENING
NICHOLLS, Ga., Aug. 28. (AP)—The Coffee county school board and superintendent of schools have announced that the schools of this county will not open before January 1, instead of September 14, as had been planned.

Lack of funds to operate the schools is said to be the cause of the delay.

The schools in the city of Douglas will be the only ones in operation in the county until the first of the year.

Parents' Magazine Editor Hires Girl To Run Own Home

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—Clara Savage Littlefield, who edits Parents' Magazine, says a business woman can use business methods also to be a successful wife and mother.

To fill the gap a career made in her own household, she set about filling it exactly as she would meet the need for an assistant in her office. She advertised in a newspaper for a young woman with qualifications to take her place in dressing, feeding and amusing the children.

Out of 300 applicants for the position Editor Littlefield found one who proved capable. While this assistant handles the home, Mrs. Littlefield has her daytime free to teach other wives and mothers through her magazine how to bring up their children.

U. S. Gold Hoard Is Now Greatest In World History

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—The pockets of Uncle Sam soon will bulge with more than $5,000,000,000 in gold.

A survey of the gold situation today showed that it will be only a matter of a short time before gold holdings in the United States will top the five billion mark for the first time in the history of any nation.

The gold reserve on August 26 amounted to $4,992,000,000, while impending shipments from South America will increase this amount. A shipment of $4,255,000 is being sent to New York from Argentina on the steamer Western Prince, and Argentina plans to send $5,000,000. In addition, receipt of $965,000 from Mexico was reported today by the federal reserve bank of New York.

It became apparent that the United States would pass the five-billion-dollar mark when it was indicated at Buenos Aires the Argentine government would meet the $500,000,000 notes maturing October 1 with gold, which is being withdrawn from the Caja de Conversion.

SEA TRAGEDY IS SEEN IN GROUNDING OF BOAT
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Aug. 28. (AP)—Apprehension was felt here today for the pilot and crew of the 30-foot gas cruiser Sunny, of Daytona Beach, which came ashore yesterday.

The boat had been seen, earlier about three miles out and a man was noted, apparently trying to pour gasoline in the forward tanks. Richard Ross and G. G. Phillips, who salvaged the boat, expressed the opinion the man was washed overboard, as there was no one on the boat when it grounded.

The engines were still warm, but there was no gas in the tanks and the top was off the forward container when the cruiser grounded at Green Beach, about 13 miles south of here, on Anastasia island.

Man's Skull Too Tough For Suicidal Bullets

NEWTON, Kan., Aug. 28. (AP)—Four bullets which Sam Vinson 47, fired into his head in a suicide attempt were removed by surgeons today. Instead of piercing the brain, the bullets flattened against his skull. Surgeons said the great amount of calcium in Vinson's bones contributed to the bullet-proof quality of his skull. His condition is not serious.

NIXON-NIRDLINGER LEAVES $730,328 ESTATE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28. (AP)—The estate of Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, who was shot to death by his wife in Nice, France, on March 11, was appraised today at $730,328 in an inventory filed with the register of wills in city hall.

Of the total amount, $247,000 is in life insurance, the remainder being largely in stocks and bonds.

Mrs. Charlotte Nash Nixon-Nirdlinger, who was acquitted of a charge of murder by a jury in Nice, is now living in Atlantic City with her two children.

Under the terms of the Nixon-Nirdlinger will, filed April 22, she receives one-third of the estate, the balance being left to the children and his second wife, Mrs. Lura McKenna Nirdlinger, from whom he was divorced. The residue of the estate eventually is to revert to charity.

3 CHICAGO THEATERS DAMAGED BY BOMBS

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Three theaters, whose owners recently substituted eastern motion picture operators for those of the local union, were bombed shortly after midnight today.

One of the bombs exploded at the rear of the Ridge theater, and caused slight injuries to two small children who were thrown from their beds in a 15-apartment building across the alley.

The manager of the theater, Harold L. Lasker, estimated the damage at $2,000, saying that a delicate sound machine near the stage had been damaged.

At the second theater, the Olympia, on the south side, more than a dozen windows were broken in the adjacent University of Chicago Settlement house, showering sleeping occupants with shattered glass. This theater was owned by Aaron E. Saperstein, president of the Independent Theater Owners' Association, who was directed

GIRL SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH OF AUTOS

Miss Cora McWhorter Badly Injured; Three Men Arrested in Collision.

Two girls were hurt, one seriously, and three men held at police headquarters as the result of a crash of two cars at the intersection of Crew and Richardson streets Friday night.

Miss Cora McWhorter, of an Avon avenue address, is in Piedmont hospital with a fractured pelvis, and is temporarily paralyzed, and Miss Clara Slemmons, of 978 Stewart avenue, was treated at Grady hospital for a broken collarbone.

Miss McWhorter and Miss Billie Douglas, of Lawson street, were said to have been passengers in the car driven by Fred Stephenson, of 1101 Arlington drive, which collided with one driven either by Dan Rencher, of 255 Washington street, or H. C. McDonald, employed at 111 Ivy street.

Rencher, at police station, said McDonald was driving; McDonald refused to say who was driving, and R. H. (Pete) Yawn, of the Washington street address, said Rencher was driving, police stated. Stephenson

NEGRO ELKS CRITICIZE ARMY FOR "SERFDOM"

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28. (AP)—Government officials were criticized today for what was described as "refusing the negro as a factor in the American army" in a resolution passed unanimously by delegates to the annual convention of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, negro fraternity, in session here.

The resolution also condemned government officials for "reducing members of the Tenth United States cavalry to military serfdom as bodyguards to army officers."

"It is too apparent," the resolution read, "that this action is in keeping with the general policy of the present administration to eliminate negroes from holding positions of dignity and trust in the federal government."

McDonald and Rencher were held pending investigation.

Yawn and Miss Sarah Lawrence were passengers in the Rencher-McDonald car with Miss Slemmons.

All occupants of both cars sustained bruises and cuts which were not serious. Both cars were demolished.

Was it her fault that her love stood for rooming houses, and furtive kisses, secret meetings, and poverty?

THE RIGHT WOMAN WAS. SONDR A FINCHLEY

Sondra who was moonlight and gold, Who was the scent of gardenias, Who was dance music, And satin, And high powered cars . . . Sondra who was illusion, And splendor!

It was worth doing anything to win her.

THE THIRD WOMAN WAS HIS MOTHER

Who was the first, And the last—Who gave him the gift of life, But who, though loving him, Could not give him luxury, Or beauty, Or a fine soul, Or even high ideals . . .

But—at the end—she gave him a greater gift—She gave him the courage he lacked.

Mrs. Bray Presides Over Better Films Luncheon

Mrs. Patrick Bray, president of the better films committee, presided at the luncheon meeting held Thursday at the Henry Grady hotel. Mrs. W. E. Coogler, chairman for Empire theater group, arranged the decorations. Mrs. Bray, in greeting members, stressed the importance of every member taking up the full activities with enthusiasm, saying that no matter how much the club accomplished, there was always that much more around the corner. She said in part: "The motion picture industry is the most dominant influence in America today and every member of a better films committee has his or her part to play in the betterment of films. The very fact that you are a member and attend these luncheons, review the pictures and pay your one dollar dues is a message that you stand for the best, not only in films but everything that is for the uplift of the city in which you live."

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, secretary of the city board of review, feature speaker, made a talk along the lines of the future in pictures and the part that would be played by better films committees everywhere. Mr. Richardson is a forceful speaker and brought to her address a wealth of knowledge recently gained while on a visit to picture industries in New York city. Miss Jessie Hopkins, well-known librarian, talked on the subject of "Better Books and Better Pictures."

Three new members welcomed were Mrs. Allen Edmond, representing Atlanta Woman's Club; Mrs. H. M. Simpson, from the West End Civic Club; and Mrs. Preston White, an individual member. Mrs. D. A. Roland was appointed chairman of the telephone committee. Regret was expressed that the committee had been called upon to give up its most popular and efficient first vice president, Mrs. Roy K. Smith, who is moving to Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Smith is one of Atlanta's most cultured and charming women, and her loss will be felt keenly in social and cultural circles. A rising vote of thanks was tendered her for her minutes efforts in the work of the club. Dr. Witherspoon Dodge, second vice president, will continue to serve the better films committee.

CHIEF SAYS U. S. MEN 'UNDER INFLUENCE'

Chief of Police J. R. Farr, of Alpharetta, who was accused by federal prohibition officers of arresting two special undercover agents out of a spirit of spite, Friday countered with the charge that both United States officers taken in custody were "well under the influence of liquor" at the time of their arrest last June.

The two special federal men were indicted by a Milton county grand jury charged with carrying liquor, when their automobile, together with 40 gallons of corn whiskey, and a man described by officers as "Red" Turner, a notorious runner of Atlanta, crashed into that of Chief Farr.

Friday's charges by the Alpharetta chief were the latest developments in the controversy between officials in prohibition headquarters in New Orleans and Georgia authorities. An effort will be pressed, it was said Friday, to have the cases of the two New Orleans officers, who gave their names as J. P. Carter and C. Hebron, transferred to the Atlanta district federal court.

IRONS NAMED RECEIVER FOR INSURANCE FIRM

Lewis A. Irons made $10,000 bond Friday as temporary receiver for the National Benefit Life Insurance Company, negro organization of Washington, D. C. He was appointed by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, on the petition of William B. Harrison, comptroller general and insurance commissioner. A hearing for permanent receivership is slated for September 12.

Receivership was sought, according to the petition, on the grounds that the company's liabilities exceeded its assets and its reserve was substantially impaired. There are approximately 13,000 stockholders in Georgia, it was said. Harrison claimed in the paper that the suit was brought as the result of the revoking of the company's charter in Georgia by a commission composed of Governor Richard B. Russell, Attorney-General George M. Napier and himself as insurance commissioner.
